

41st Avenue Median Public Art Project Update

In March 2012 the Capitola City Council approved the “41st Avenue Median Public Art Project.” It is being created by Troy Corliss (Artist). This is by far the most significant art project that the City has undertaken, and is scheduled for completion this winter. The project will consist of large bright and colorful translucent “ocean theme” panels made of crushed glass and silicone. The assorted panels will appear as sails, kayaks and surfboards.
